DECEMBER, 1958

NO. 4

Dear Friends:

As we approach another Christmas season, it is fitting that we all rejoice with our families and give thanks for our many blessings.

This season marks the completion of 32 years of operation for the Sprague Electric Company. It is indeed gratifying to reflect and note the progress and growth our Company has enjoyed over these years. We have achieved and retained a position of leadership in our field, which is indeed a reflection of the continued fine effort, spirit, loyalty, and efficiency of our employees. We take this opportunity to extend our sincerest appreciation for a job well done.

Highlighting our physical growth in 1958, we constructed a new branch plant in Visalia, California; substantially expanded our Concord, New Hampshire plant; and acquired and renovated the Union Street plant in North Adams which now houses the newly formed Special Products Division.

While we felt some effects of a general economic recession during 1958, the last quarter has seen a modest increase in business activity which we hope will usher-in a period of steady progress and growth for 1959.

We take this opportunity to extend to all of you our best wishes for a most Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year.

Robert C. Sprague

1959 SOCIAL SECURITY CHANGES HIGHER BENEFITS - HIGHER TAXES

Social Security, which is so important to all of us, has again undergone changes by the Federal Government.

Beginning January 1, 1959 both you and your employer will have to contribute more in Social Security Taxes to help pay for the increased benefits that will also go into effect on that date. In addition, the amount of your earnings to be counted for Social Security Tax purposes will also be increased.

Recently, both you and your employer have been paying to the Federal Government, 2-1/4% of your total yearly wages up to $4,200. Beginning January 1, 1959 this rate will be raised to 2-1/2% and will apply to wages up to $4,800. Therefore, if you made the maximum of $4,200 in 1958 you paid $94.50 and your employer paid $94.50 in Social Security Taxes for a total of $189.00.

In 1959, however, again assuming you make the new maximum of $4,800, you will now contribute $120.00 and your employer will contribute $120.00 for a total of $240.00.

In 1960, the rate will go up another half of 1% for both employer and employee and further increases are scheduled every three years after that until 1969 when your total tax will be 4-1/2% and your employers will be 4-1/2%.

These increases in taxes will mean increases in benefits which, in general, will amount to about 7% over the 1958 benefits, some may get slightly more, some slightly less. Persons now retired can look forward to this increase and some people still working in 1960 will receive the 7% increase for themselves and their dependents, on retirement, and for their survivors in the event of their death.

Other benefit features include the raising of the highest monthly wage or salary on which benefits are computed from $350 to $400 a month. Additionally, persons who become totally and permanently disabled can draw par-

Solid Tantalum Pilot Plant Adds William King As Foreman

The Company announced earlier this month the appointment of William King as Foreman of its Solid Tantalum Pilot Plant. He replaces Bernard Gilmore who served as Foreman until leaving the Company in October of this year.

Mr. King is a native of Williamstown, attended local schools and graduated from Williamstown High School in 1951. He served two years with the U. S. Navy and three years with Cornish Wire Company in Williamstown.

He joined Sprague Electric as a Methods Engineer in the Methods and Planning Department in October of this year.

He is married to the former Ann Flanagan of North Adams, and they have two children.

NOVEMBER SUGGESTIONS NET $405 FOR TWELVE EMPLOYEES

Envelopes filled with Christmas cheer are opened by three of the top Suggestion Award winners from last month's Suggestion Committee meeting. The happy recipients are: Herb Hafner of General Salvage, $90; Catherine Courtemanche of Film Products, $50; and George Paquin of Filters, $75.

The Suggestion Committee met for its November meeting and rewarded ideas submitted by employees through the Suggestion Program with a monthly record high for the year of $405.00. This amount raised the total dollars awarded for 1958 to $2600.00.

Leading the pack of award winners for November was Herbert Hafner, Supervisor in the Salvage Department, who suggested a profitable method of disposal of waste material. The idea netted a neat $90.00 for the author.

Close on his heels with a $75.00 award was George Paquin of Filter Production. George submitted an idea to improve a production technique in the assembling of filter units.

Awards of $60.00 and $50.00 each went to Albert Barriere of the Carpenter Shop and Catherine Courtemanche of Film Products. Al suggested a safety device to be used on a power saw in the Carpenter Shop and Catherine came up with an idea for a jig to facilitate a soldering operation in her department.

Also a check for $30.00 was shared by Eugene Baker, Jr. and William Morandi of Brown Street Impregnation who co-authored a suggestion to aid in transporting units from Sandia to Impregnation.

Closing out the awards for the month were: Richard Belford of the Machine Shop $25.00; William Morehouse, Paper Rolling $25.00; Veta Navarro and Ralph Lesure of Filters who shared $20.00; Frank Segala of FP Assembly $15.00; and Al Barbuta of the Machine Shop $15.00.

The Committee is composed of Francis C. Wilson of Employee & Community Relations as Manager of the Suggestion System Program and includes: Harold Carson, Don Meiklejohn, Leon Pike, Fred Potter, Robert Smith, Robert Teeple and John Washburn.

Where Our Products Go

Sprague Electric produced Vitamen Q Capacitors form a part of plug-in boards for electronic equipment furnished to Convair, Fort Worth, Texas by Melpar, Inc. for use in the USAF B-58 bomber. Manufacturers like Melpar, choose Sprague components for quality, reliability and dependability, which is a result of your fine workmanship.

Recent Trends In TV Components

by Alan Smith and Daniel Mannheim

PART II

In the first part of this article (which appeared in the last issue of the Log) the most important recent advances in TV receiver construction were described. In this final part of the article the specific effects of these changes on several of Sprague's component lines will be described in a non-technical manner. Unfortunately, in a short article it is impossible to cover all the Sprague component lines used in television. An attempt will be made to cover those lines which are new since the early days of television or which have undergone the greatest changes in the past ten years.

Election Over - - Now Action

"The Election is over, and the voters of Massachusetts have spoken." But far more significant than the sound of a voice or the expression of an opinion, is the fact that in speaking, the people of Massachusetts have "hired" their government leaders for the next two years. In some cases they have replaced old leaders with new ones. In others, they have retained incumbents.

In either case, the point is that the people of Massachusetts have done this. And when you examine the outcome of the election—stripped of the heat and furor of the campaign—the process is the same in effect as when anyone hires or fires an employee. For it is literally true that the men and women who will take office on January 1, 1959, work for the people of Massachusetts.

In the case of the Massachusetts Senate and House of Representatives, the people will pay each of these individuals $5,200 a year plus $500 expenses, plus mileage, for the next two years. Massachusetts pays its legislators better than any other state, with the exception of California and New York. This means that the taxpayers of Massachusetts will pay out over 1.5 million dollars each year in salaries and expenses alone, in return for the services of 40 Senators and 240 Representatives in the Massachusetts Legislature. One and a half million dollars is a lot of money in anyone's language, but it's a bargain if the citizens of Massachusetts get good government.

When you look for a job, about the first thing that happens is an employment interview. You size up your prospective employer, and he tries to size you up. That's what happens in an election campaign. Candidates present their qualifications to the people doing the hiring—the voters of Massachusetts. And then, like any employer, the voters make a decision. In the case of the General Court, 280 Legislators will "report to work" on the first Wednesday in January, 1959.

Normally, when you take a new job, most of your first days are consumed by getting oriented, and learning what you are expected to do. It would be extremely foolish to hire a man and pay him, without telling him what he was hired for. And yet, this is precisely what happens to many Senators and Representatives in the Massachusetts Legislature. Why? Because the people who "hired" him by electing him to office, fail to tell him what to do for Massachusetts.

Next year approximately 4,000 separate pieces of legislation will be filed in the Massachusetts General Court. This means that your Senator and Representative will need to make about 4,000 decisions in your behalf. Each of these bills will have a public hearing and go to a vote before the House of Representatives and/or Senate. During this process, special interest groups will not fail to tell the Senators and Representatives what they want. And so, Legislators agree unanimously that they want and need the help of all of their constituents in making decisions concerning the thousands of bills on which they will vote in 1959.

The voters have "hired" their government leaders. But, by voting, the people of Massachusetts have only taken the first step. Now they need to begin the job of telling their representatives what they want and what they don't want, in terms of what they believe will benefit the Commonwealth as a whole. The citizens of Massachusetts, both private and corporate, will pay the bill since taxes are the major source of all State revenue. The citizens elect the men and women who decide how their money will be spent. In this democracy, legislators are paid by the people to spend their money in accordance with their wishes. It's up to us citizens to guide them. Democrat or Republican—they want and need your help.

Additions For December

Franklin Frantz—Section Head, Research and Engineering, joined Sprague in June of 1953. He holds a BA Degree from Columbia College and a MA from Columbia University. Prior to joining Sprague, he was associated with a number of firms in various capacities related to chemical research. He is married to the former Winifred Bransford Bach of New York City and they have four children.

Hollis Hardy—Section Head Research and Engineering joined the Company in February of 1954. Earlier that same year he graduated from R.P.I. in Troy, New York as an Electrical Engineer. Prior to joining Sprague, he worked for Sylvania in Buffalo, N. Y. He saw service in the Navy and participated in the "Operation Sandstone" atomic tests of 1948. He is married to the former Patricia King of Fairfax, Vermont.

Daniel Manheim—Section Head, Research and Engineering, joined Sprague in August of 1955. He is a 1954 graduate of the University of Connecticut and is now attending Williams' College in preparation for his Masters. He is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y.; is married to the former Irene Stone, and they have two children.

Daniel Norton—Section Head Research and Engineering, joined Sprague in June of 1955. He received a BS from Antioch College in 1944 and a Masters and Doctorate from Princeton University in 1948. Prior to joining Sprague, he served with a number of companies in the chemistry field. He is married to the former Rachel Eastman of Springfield, Ohio, and they have three children.

Bela B. Paine—Head of Product Engineering for the Special Products Division, joined Sprague in April of this year. He holds an Electrical Engineers Degree from Union College and has attended M.I.T. Prior to joining Sprague, he served with various companies and has wide experience in computer component engineering and evaluation. He is married to the former Barbara Olson of Mount Kisco, New York, and they have one child.

Robert Russet—Section Head, Purchasing Department, joined Sprague in April of 1951. He is a native of this area and attended local schools and Tampa College in Tampa, Florida. Prior to joining the Purchasing Department, he served in Material Control and Cost Estimating. He is married to the former Rita Davis of Athens, Tennessee, and they have three children.

(Left) A 53 year old landmark comes down as workmen attack the 50,000 gallon water tower in the Marshall Street yard. The Arnold Print Works, who erected the tower, discontinued its use in the latter years of its operation and it has never been used by Sprague Electric. Prior to the flood control program water for fire control purposes was secured from the river. More recently, a 400,000 gallon level tank has been installed for that purpose. ### Tubular Capacitors

For the benefit of those not familiar with these units, the general construction of tubular capacitors may be described as follows: long strips of metal foil and of insulating films about one inch wide and less than a thousandth of an inch thick are wound together to form a capacitor. These rolled cylinders which are about an inch long and from 1/8 to one inch in diameter are referred to as "sections". After lead wires have been attached to these sections they are inserted in a protective case of some sort. Either before or after they are encased most types of units are impregnated with an insulating fluid.

Recent advances in tubular capacitors have taken the form of modifications of the case used and of the method of bringing out the lead wires. These modifications have been necessary to best adapt these capacitors for insertion in the printed wiring boards mentioned in the first part of this article.

Until the advent of wiring boards almost all tubular capacitors were made with one lead protruding axially out of each end. With this construction each lead must be bent at right angles before it can be inserted into a wiring board. Also, these tubular capacitors cannot easily be mounted vertically as is often desirable to save space on the wiring board. Therefore several new types of tubulars have been developed which provide parallel leads for easier insertion and, in most cases, provision for "stand-up" mounting.

For example, in the Sprague 89P Autocon* capacitor both leads protrude from the same end of the capacitor. These capacitors are made using premolded cylindrical plastic cases closed at one end. After inserting the section, the opening is filled with one of Sprague's new liquid thermosetting (becomes hard upon heating) compounds. Tolerance on the spacing of the two leads must be held very closely so these capacitors may be inserted using automatic equipment.

Sprague has introduced a new version of the "Black Beauty"™ molded tubular capacitor modified so as to be better adapted for wiring board use. The "Black Beauty"™ line of capacitors is made using a powdered plastic compound and a heated press which molds this powder into a strong smooth solid case surrounding the unit. These units, introduced in the very early days of television before wiring boards, have been made using the axial lead arrangement described above. Both ends were slightly round.

Credit Union Declares Dividend

Over 2600 members of the Credit Union will enjoy a 3 1/4% annual dividend on all shares outstanding for the six month period ending October 31st. This rate was passed by the shareholders at a meeting held last month and is the second time in as many years it has been paid by the organization.

Election of officers for the coming year was also on the calendar and produced no changes in the slate from last year.

Officers re-elected were: President, Pete Mancuso of Check Inspection; Vice-president, Howard Sherman of Production Engineering; Treasurer, Robert Armitage of General Accounting; and Assistant Treasurer and Clerk, Joan Durocher of General Accounting.

Directors re-elected for a three-year term were: Tom Dion of Maintenance, Henry Doane of Personnel, Pete Horbal of Cost Estimating, Emma Jobin of Purchasing, and Peter Mancuso.

Incumbent directors not up for reelection this year are: Howard Sherman, Robert Armitage, Joseph O'Brien of Production Engineering, Marion Caron of Personnel, Harold Twitchell of Tabulating, Walter Lamphier of Research and Engineering, Art VanSteenburgh of Sandia, Larry Moreau of Purchasing, Jim Nicol of the Special Products Division, and Joan Durocher.

Names in the News

WILLIAM KIRBY, JR. of Plant Engineering has been certified as a registered architect by the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Architects.

PHILIP TALARICO, shipping foreman, was elected president of the North Adams Kiwanis Club. Also elected as treasurer of the club was ROBERT ARMITAGE of General Accounting.

DR. SIDNEY ROSS of Research and Engineering was a panel speaker at the Pine Cobble PTA Meeting. The panelists discussed "The Arts in a World of Technology".

LEON PODOLSKY, Technical Assistant to the President, was recently named a co-chairman of the Technical Committee of the Capacitor Section by the National Electrical Manufacturers Association.

JAMES DRUMMOND of the Sales Office served as master of ceremonies of a recent meeting of the Williams-town Republican Club.

When this issue comes out, Howie Isherwood will have a real Pepsodent smile—the first thing he'll go for will be a big streak!... My youngest son is back in San Diego after a six-month cruise that took him to Formosa, Quemoy, and many other places in that area. We are very happy to have him back in the states again. ...Ness Robert's daughter won honorable mention in a beauty contest for babies in this area. She should have won first prize, Ness. ...Soon the snow will come hard and fast. Hope it doesn't snow too much. Harry... Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all my co-workers.

Metal Clad Assembly

by Lillian Gainer & Ada Harrington

A retirement dinner party was held for our former co-worker, Mary Bennett at Taconic Park, Friday, November 14th. Forty-three of her former co-workers attended. Decorations and favors were made by the hostess, Lillian Gainer. Group singing and dancing were enjoyed and the honored guest received gifts of glassware and electrical appliances as well as a corsage. We enjoyed having Catherine "Irish" Scott, Helen LeSage, Ida Decoteau, Katherine Scott, Doris Monette, Martha Zeppieri, Margaret Fitzgerald, Alice Maselli, Peggy Moreau, Marge Barry, Marion Andrews, Edna Michalski, Ann Joppich, Marilyn Daub, Claire Cantoni and Beatrice Faustini as well as our regular co-workers. It seems we have a wrong-way-Corrigan in our department. Jennie Pincombe traveled all the way up to the Mountainview Restaurant instead of heading for Taconic Park.

Margaret Fitzgerald attended the service award banquet on October 6th and received her 15 year pin. Also receiving 15 year pins were Bertha Dupree and Colleen Phillips. Alice Contois and Susan Pollone were awarded 10 year pins. ...Edie Noel recently spent a pleasant week in Long Island visiting her daughter, Mrs. Burns, and her family. ...We all wish Edna Michalski enjoyment in her newly located home in Holyoke, Mass. ...The girls in this department are still following Johnny Allen's athletic career at Holy Cross College. He sure is making us proud. ...All of us certainly relished the delicious butterscotch fudge Helen Lefebvre passed around the day before Thanksgiving.

Now we are all busy with our holiday preparations but we want to take time out to wish each and every one a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Prelude to Christmas

It is the jolly as well as the holly season again. Christmas trees, mistletoe, Christmas decorating, shopping, wrapping gifts, cleaning, cooking, baking special goodies, everybody is so busy. (Especially Mom) But regardless, everyone has a smile and a cheery greeting for each other. That is why we all really love the Christmas holidays.

But regardless of all the hustle and bustle, we should not forget the real meaning of Christmas. It is the birthday of our Lord. Therefore, it is during this season of giving and receiving, that we should give something to Him who has given His life for us. Whether it be a visit to our church, alms for the needy, or just a little prayer, we should remember it is the feeling in our hearts that really counts.

News

Well, Eddie LaFleche was quite the fashion plate when he escorted his wife to her room's party. The steak was delicious and the party merry, eh, Ed? Viv Montgomery's son, Peter, is really growing up. He has transferred to St. Joseph's School and has to take the bus both ways. ...Evelyn Davis is back with us again and on her desk she has the cutest picture of her little son, Danny. ...Peggy Maynard was busy working when she suddenly looked up to find herself being congratulated by Mr. Fonteyn, Mr. Cronin and Mr. Potter. The occasion was the presentation of her 15 year pin. ...Mary Provost is back looking chipper than ever.

It isn't everybody that can have their Christmas shopping done in Arizona! Nice to have a sister out there, isn't it Roma? ...Lil Babcock and Mary Santelli have been busy with the Christmas Bazaar—which is their good deed for the orphans. ...The girls in the office seem to be complaining about the steam baths they get every day. ...Ernie Rondeau and Art Morin, the two hunters in our room, tried very hard to bag a deer or bear without success. Better luck in December boys!

Our general supervisor tries very hard to keep the Chlorinol room clean. In spite of Eddie LaFleche's bragging it is the cleanest part in the whole room, it is quite a chore to keep it so. ...Jack Severin, our check inspector, is going to Indiana for the Christmas holidays. ...Vacations this month for Dot Shea, Dot DeSanty, Mary Santelli, Art Morin and Steve Baldyga.

Welcome to Chet Lesniak who has been transferred from Sandia to be our supervisor of the shipping section. ...Clyde Kipp is kept quite busy. ...Louis Thomas, our check inspector, seems to be yawning quite a bit lately. We advise more rest, Louis. ...We are sure Rose Vareschi's daughter, Mary Frances, is having a Merry Christmas. She made out a really big list. ...Mertie Bishop is back with us and we were pleased to have her daughter, Carol, drop in to visit us during the Thanksgiving holiday.

That's all for now. Keep well and have fun! Be careful!

First we all want to say we are sorry to see Millie Garner and Claire

In a hurry to get to bed before Santa comes is Rosemarie Hartman, 4½ year old granddaughter of Camillo Canino of Maintenance.

Robert leave us. We hope it won't be for long. ...Well, Guido spent most of his weekend moving and we hope he and his family like their new apartment. ...Snow is now really coming fast and we have a few drivers that don't appreciate it. Some of our more experienced drivers think it is just like good old summer driving, right Ann? If you don't believe Ann, ask any of the girls who were in her car lately.

That's all the news for now so we want to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and hope Santa makes everyone's wish come true.

Well this month there isn't much to write about except to say good-by for a little while to the girls who have been laid off. We would also like to extend our sympathy to the family of the late Joseph Unis, and to Janet Trela on her father's death.

Liz Slattery had her children and grandchildren up for the Thanksgiving holiday. We extend Christmas greetings to each and every one!

Cleinal Assembly

by Fran Guyette & Alice Dupuis

Well here we are again already in the merry month of December, time for all Christmas parties that are getting in full swing and the hustle and bustle of Christmas shopping. ...What is this new fad of Eleanor King and Rose Vallieres making popcorn every Friday night. When are we going to get some? ...We would really like to know when our Supervisor Casey Strzepek is planning on going to Canada. We are beginning to wonder if you are going or not. ...Your reporter would also like to brag a little about the 170 lb. spike horn shot by her husband, Ray Guyette while on a hunting trip in the Taconic Trail area. It's his first one in all the years of hunting, you can imagine how thrilled he was and myself too! ...To all, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year! ...Lettie Demo, it is rumored, got a little lost in Hartford recently. Too many rights and lefts, Letty? ...Constance Davis is going to have a busy December, besides celebrating Christmas, there's going to be a wedding in the family. Have fun, Connie!

"Let's just rock", says Deborah Jones. Her mother, Betty, works in Blue Print and father, Donald, works in Tantalum Formation.

Michael Horsfall is practicing to be the new "Wyatt Earp", while brother, Paul, looks on in wide-eyed amazement. They are the grandchildren of Al Horsfall, Company photographer.

Helen Murphy and her husband have returned from a two-week stay in Oakland, California where they visited their son Joseph who has been seriously ill at the U. S. Naval Hospital. Joe is now on the road to recovery. Madge Taft's husband returned from the hospital and is convalescing at home. ...Our pin-up girl, Mary Critelli, had a grand time at the Service Award Banquet where she received a watch in recognition of her 25 years of service with the Company. It will be many years before her co-workers acquire the same. ...Annette Hinkle and Albina Burdick are busy with their O.G.T. work. There are times when their patience comes to a breaking point and their lips move softly. We wonder what they are saying! ...Alice Beer surprised us with a new hairdo. The style is very short. Easy to take care of, right, Alice? ...How domestic can you get? Al Folino is now concentrating on rug making. ...Frankie boy, how is your sweet tooth? Lucky boy, when you have it, you can't deny it. ...Annette Hinkle was pleasantly surprised by the arrival of her son and daughter for the week end. Mary came home from Our Lady of the Elms College and Bill, who is an Ensign in the Navy came from Rhode Island. ...Bell Dow, for the first time, spent the Thanksgiving holidays with her entire family.

High Quality Rollers

by Betty DeMers

Ruth Perras is back to work after a week vacation at home just taking life easy—she looks completely rested. ...Ray LaFrance was one of the first lucky hunters to get a deer. A few minutes in the woods near Senecal's farm, and he came out with a deer. At least he said it was a deer, but we still think it was one of Lil's goats!!! Lil Senecal has been getting razzed about the black eye she had two weeks ago. She claims she hit it on the handle of the rolling machine. ...Hello to Vickie Bissailon and Ida Hurlbut—we haven't seen them in ages. ...That does it for this month. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Premold Case Assembly

by Florence Clement

News is very scarce with everyone busy now that Christmas is just around the corner. We do hope that everyone had a very good Thanksgiving. ...Arthur Perra is back from his vacation during which he went hunting. Sorry you didn't have good luck, Art. Don't feel bad, maybe next year will be better! Rose Lancto and Irene Serventi are spending their vacation at home. ...We hope that Mary Burr will soon be well again and back to work. We all miss her. ...The Department is proud of Beatrice Gibeau who received her watch for completing twenty-five years of service with the Company, and also of Alma Fox and Irene Serventi who received their service pins. ...We send our best wishes to everyone for a Very Happy Christmas and a Grand New Year.

Sandia Coolers

by Evelyn Jones

Hi! Does everyone have their Christmas shopping done? ...Good luck to Millie Conroy on her new job. ...Welcome back to all our girls that have been laid off. They all look so fresh and rested it makes the rest of us a little jealous. ...Sarah Brown is very happy because her son Stanley is home from the Army. ...They had a hard time fitting Flo Dupre with her new shoes, but she is doing fine now. ...We hear Laura Roy got quite a scare when Lydia Spooner appeared at her door on trick or treat night. ...We wish a speedy recovery to Ruby Sherry Kay Sprague is the daughter of Ted Sprague of Check Inspection and Frances of the Sample Dept.

A real serious young fellow is Gary Lesniak, son of Chet Lesniak, Industrial Oils dept. and Shirley of Metal Clad.

Peter Bianchi, son of Joe Bianchi of Industrial Oils, looks very pleased with the world.

Russ Yarter, Harold Brown and Vick Vareschi are our Massachusetts deer hunters this year. We wish them good luck, and hope they don't forget to save us some deer steak. Marie Dargie and her husband and children had a family reunion at their home for the Thanksgiving holiday. Walt Kondej attended the Army and Navy football game in Philadelphia. Army won and, of course, that made Walt very happy. Henry Pepin won his Thanksgiving turkey at the turkey shoot in Cheshire. Lucky fellow! By the time this issue of the Log comes off the press, it will be close to Christmas. I want to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year.

General Salvage

by Herbert Hafner

The Nimrods in this department have not had the best luck during the Vermont deer season. Joseph Danforth was the only person to get a deer, a good sized one at that! William Cooper hunted during his vacation—no luck. William Collier is at the North Adams Hospital for treatments for his back. We all hope he returns soon.

NOW HEAR THIS: BOB MARRIOTT—the day after Thanksgiving—"Gee, but I'm hungry." PEG ROBERTS—"I feel like a restless gun". How's that, Peg? SUNNY CAIRNS—wearing fur-lined boots, two sweaters, scarf, etc. "Boy, am I cold!" BETTY KLEINER—"The Bear Went Over the Mountain—"Not that one—my husband got him. See you later folks—in furs, that is." HELEN DROBIK—transferring into the department and out again in one week—"Give me 'Five Minutes More'". We enjoyed meeting you Helen and hope you'll be back soon. Welcome back to Barbara Roy and Cora Morandi. To the new girls, Louise Therrien, Irene Testa, Jane Dobbert and Betty Cota—Welcome! We were all glad to see Hazel Bass back in the department after being hospitalized.

If it's last minute shopping you have to do for Christmas see Alice Green. By now she must know what stores are open evenings after being unsuccessful on her first two tries. From our department to yours, we want to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Dear Santa:

Please remember Mom and Dad and the family, and please be very good to the whole world, including of course these very special "peoples" because of their proper behavior this past year and last month in particular:

William Adams for his amazing patience, for example when bravely fighting the 8-inch snowstorm of November 3, or starting the clock that's always stopped, etc. Beverly Sherman for her perseverance in chatting in Spanish, with everyone including her Angora cat, Anastasia. Nancy Kelly for supporting sports in general, and especially the victorious Williams football team at Amherst. Jean Gardzina, for remaining very humble despite her lovely daughter Cathy's winning an honorable mention in a recent nation-wide baby (photograph) contest. Ken Haskins for braving the bitter cold in the fashion of all great hunters, optimistic to the end that Massachusetts game would be more visible than its Vermont cousins. Myrna Harvey for her sheer fortitude in returning to the madhouse.

Bertha Richard for having encouraged her son, Mahlon, to be worthy of receiving the "Eagle Scout Award", and also for being one of the only two mothers in town to be the proud possessors of two Eagle pins (with prospects for No. 3, yet). George Ferran for tearing himself from this delightful cold icy country for a week of warm Mexican climate. Shirley Roberts for daring to present her views to the world in this column last month—(completely painless, as I had promised). Barbara Puthoff for that cheerful humming that warns all high-strung concentrators of her approach.

Marilyn LoPresto who is still managing to smile as the "packing list" piles grow. Sandie Segala for her uncanny talent in handling the Ditto machine with never a telltale smudge, to the consternation of her fellow operators. Rose Richard for fighting off those closing eyelids better than anyone I know. Marie Roy for becoming the proud mother of a bouncing lad on November 7. Marilyn Soha for being a VIP at Becker Junior College and yours truly, for having found that rising at 4:00 a.m. is painless (once in a great while) when it's to console a little helpless Pishnickle (Greek for nephew).

So good-bye now, Santa; we'll be looking for you...

Sincerely,

S.

Flash No. 1: Music Notes

A few months ago, we advised you to watch with interest the future doing of Ronnie Richardello, son of Mary and Nick. Now we have more news for you in regard to Ronnie's progress. Each year, in New York City, a championship Accordion Contest is held. Last year Ronnie came in second. Another such contest was held on Sunday, November 23rd at the New York Trade School Building in New York. Ronnie and Robert Guerina of Pittsfield played a duet and again finished in second place. The boys were presented a trophy which will be placed in the studio of their teacher. Both boys are students at the Mennin School of Music in Pittsfield, and Ronnie is currently attending the Darrow School for Boys in Lebanon, New York. Let's watch this boy!

Flash No. 2: Welcome

We welcome back Helena Zawislak, Shirley Adams, and Margaret Powell

A handsome Drury senior is Joseph Girardi, Jr., son of Rita Girardi of Dry Rolling.

who have been away much too long. Flash No. 3: Famous Sayings. Mary Esposito—"I can't get a thing done, I'm busy baby sitting." Zita Pedrin—"What do you mean, I'm always yacking?" Gladys Costello—"Boy, am I tired! Wish I could come into money." Dorsey King—"A guy's better off dead."

Ed Suthers—"Sure! Go ahead and read my paper, I only buy it!" Opal Edwards—"Gee, it's cold in here."

Mary Scott—"Is it me—or is it cold in here?"

Marion Caron—"I used to do all those things—but no more!" Clara Shakar—"I can't! I'm bowling tonight."

Vishy Wisniowski—"I'm with Clara. I'm bowling too."

That does it for this time, but we'll see you next time and until then remember this: "The quarrel with matrimony is not with the institution. It's the personnel."

Maintenance

by Dorothy Buzzell

Our Vermont hunters didn't have much luck this year although Hugo Maroni, who works in the Electric Shop did bag a 4 point 135 lb. deer and Vernon Shippee, who works in the Boiler House at Beaver Street shot a 3 point 125 lb. deer.

Congratulations to Robert Perry on his marriage to Helen Oakes. Bob works in the Pipe Shop. Several of us from the Maintenance Department attended the wedding and reception and an enjoyable time was had by all. Al Barriere who works in the Carpenter Shop is sporting a new Plymouth... Frank Connors of the Millwright Shop and Joseph Filiault of the Electric Shop are each taking one week's vacation this month... Good luck to all the hunters who are going out in Massachusetts this month. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year everyone!

Advertising

by Janice Harriman

Once again a year has passed. The holidays are here at last. Reaching out with grasping hooks. Dipping into our pocketbooks. This year, we cry, we've got to cut down.

There's not enough dough to go around. Then we see just the thing. To buy for Auntie and Uncle Jim.

We hurry and scurry from shop to shop.

Buying and spending—will it never stop?

But then Christmas morn finally dawns. And all our hearts are filled with song. To see all those faces, shining and bright.

Filled with the Christmas spirit light. As each gift is opened we silently pray. Thanking our Lord for the chance to say.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. And thank you, Lord, for allowing us here.

May I take this opportunity to wish all of my fellow workers and friends a very prosperous New Year. Writing this column has been a pleasure and the encouragement I have received from the Advertising Gang has been very much appreciated.

by Betty Jangro

The Check Inspection personnel extend Holiday Greeting to All!

Yes, that was a nice buck that Al Jangrow bagged in Vermont during the Vermont deer season and his most important admirers were his three grandsons Allen, Paul, and Jamie. Now they want grandpa to bring home a bear. The cute little "Miss" of Check Inspection this year is the Pride and Joy of Ted Sprague, our co-worker. Her mommy works in the Sample Dept.

Every Monday at the Drury Evening School many Sprague employees are taking advantage of the different opportunities given them to further their education. This year the Effective Speaking class is more than three quarters men... Anyone wishing to join for the remainder of the school may do so by registering on January 5, 1959. The attendance this year shows an increase over all previous years.

Donald Langer was one of the lucky hunters on the first day of deer season by bringing home a black bear weighing one hundred pounds.

If we don't see Clarence Scrivens after the Christmas week end, we will know that celebrating a 47th wedding anniversary and Christmas was too much for him. He has ten children, twenty-six grandchildren, and eleven great grandchildren—that's quite a family when they all get together! Congratulations, Scrive... Gil Harris enjoyed his vacation deer hunting this year. He didn't have any luck, so we didn't get a venison dinner as expected. Better luck next year, Gil. Also enjoying a vacation at present is Prosper Lussier. Doris Harris, Jerry Varuzzo and Austin Rogge will have their vacation before the next issue is printed. Have a nice rest folks, you've earned it... Josephine Gaspardi is working the day shift again after being on nights. She is racking this time, it's good to see you with us again, Jo... Marie Rohane has been out for some time. We hope she will be well enough to be with us soon... We wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Shipping

by Cecile Trudeau

Congratulations to Ann Tremblay and Herbert Brown who received their service award pins for 10 years and 5 years respectively... Betty O'Dell and family have purchased a beautiful trailer and they are now living in Hinsdale... We have a few deer hunters in this department—Stanley Pasierbiak, Al Bourdon and Norman Davignon. At this writing, we have not yet received any reports from them.

Cecile Trudeau went to New York City for her vacation. She had a wonderful time... Norman Davignon enjoyed a week's vacation hunting in Vermont. Better luck next year, Norm... Welcome back to work, Myrna Harvey. Myrna works in the Export Office.

Tantalum

by Dolores Shakar

Everyone has a secret wish—an ideal or goal.

To be President some day; or finally given that "Academy Award" role. Having ambition, to accomplish your feat is sublime, I've heard.

All I want is, one year, to finish my Christmas Shopping by December 23rd.

Other women seem to accomplish it with no strain at all.

They search out bargain counters and manage to recall.

What will be suitable for Aunt Ethel or Uncle Pete.

And are tying holly on bundles while I'm still gasping in the August heat.

Thanksgiving has come and gone; the turkey, a savory thought. Then I grasp the fact that it's time, once more, to be caught. In the struggle, as it always is, to storm the stores for gifts. While outside, the walks are filled with high snow drifts.

But no matter how good my intentions have been.

Every season finds me unprepared and late again.

The trouble with Christmas is that it comes so soon.

Why, only yesterday, Bing Crosby sang that "White Christmas" tune!

It seems I just put away the stand for the Christmas tree.

These two characters spent Halloween night haunting houses. Do you know who they are?

And finished writing the greeting cards from me.

I've scarcely taken down the mistletoe from the hallway door.

—It can't be time to put it up once more!!

What shall I be doing the day before Christmas this year?

While better women sit serenely in their parlors laughing with cheer. Tangled in ribbon, waist-deep in tissue, I'll be.

Wrapping little gifts to put 'neath the tree.

I'll be sending out for stamps, looking up names in my address book. But shall I feel as harried as I look? No, for there'll be bells ringing from every steeple.

Angels in windows and gay laughter from all the people.

Everything, so merry and gleaming bright.

The white snow glistening in the clear moonlight.

And in the manger, the tiny baby sleeps in his bed.

With the star from the East shining over his head.

Voices of children will be heard in the air.

Homes decorated with Christmas green everywhere.

People will solemnly pray by the church altar rails.

Who can complain about Christmas when it's white and ancient magic never fails!

Really, Christmas is the time to pray. That we may have peace in this world some day.

To worship and laugh without any fear.

That all may have a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

Thanksgiving has come and gone. From all reports a nice time was had by all... Belated anniversary greetings to Ken Suprenant and his wife, "Toots" on their fourth wedding anniversary. Congratulations from all of us... Julia Cirillo spent her vacation in New York City visiting her daughter Eleanor and granddaughters and also journeyed to Long Island for a visit with her daughter, Catherine... Agnes Jolin always enjoys a visit from her daughter and grandchildren and so she especially enjoyed Thanksgiving as they were her guests for the day... Cecile Trudeau spent her vacation in New York City, enjoying the sights and also doing some shopping and commented that the only trouble with vacations was "they end too soon".

Our heartiest congratulations to Maggie Taft, who had the unique distinction of becoming a grandma twice in less than 24 hours. A son was born to Mr. & Mrs. John Taft, November 2nd (their 4th) and a daughter was born to Mr. & Mrs. William Taft, Jr. November 3rd... Congratulations also to Mr. & Mrs. Augustino Jammallo on the birth of a daughter, Katherine Ann, on November 7th. Now that you have one of each, you must be pretty happy "Gus"! Last month we reported on a "Hair Stylist", this month we will report on a "seamstress", which is none other than Marie Paesler. Her favorite project is making skirts, and she has made quite a number of them in the past. They're lovely! We wonder when she is ever going to start taking orders?... Say Rose Coyne! How about giving us the recipe for that certain mocha concoction (h-l-l-a) you dreamed up?... One time the fad used to be "Stanley Brush Parties", now it's "Dutch Maid Clothes Parties". Hi Folks, hope you had a very happy Thanksgiving. We always look forward to it, but it certainly is a very uncomfortable feeling when one eats too much. Regardless, it still is a very good day to count our blessings. Theresa Pedercini spent the holiday in Brockton and attended the wedding of her cousin. Doris Horbal and her family spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Connecticut. If you are wondering why Doris is going around with a big smile on her face, it's because her son has returned home from Germany after completing two years in the Army. By the way, you single girls will be interested to know that he also brought home a brand new Volkswagon convertible... Our friend Don Arigoni is out on sick leave re-

Casimir Gliwski and his wife celebrated their third anniversary on Thanksgiving day. A big family dinner was held at their home. . . . Welcome to the new girls in the department—Lorraine Wittig, Rita Brooks, Connie Gordon and Gina Cirullo and also Wally Crouse. . . . Yours truly is proud of her son, Vincent Michael, who recently made Tenderfoot in his Boy Scout troop 62 of Briggsville.

Everyone had a wonderful time at our Christmas party held at Taconic Park. Games and dancing were enjoyed. Featured during the evening was a grab bag. A gift was presented to Gert Pigeon who arranged the affair. The gift was given to her by her grateful co-workers.

Congratulations to Hazel Russell who has a new grandson born to Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Russell of Dalton on November 15th. . . . Marion Sherman, Dorothy Lewis, Johanna Kayser, Jack and Millie Faustini and Minnie Hamlin attended the Roast Beef supper put on by the Holy Name Society in Adams. A cocktail party was held at Minnie's home preceding the supper. . . . Rita Cooper had Thanksgiving week off. She was very busy getting ready for her dinner and company. Her husband's brother and his family came from Providence, Rhode Island to spend the week end with them. . . . We wish to welcome Rachel Davis to our Department, also Mae Reardon who worked with us about five years ago. . . . Emma Vivori spent a pleasant week end with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. & Mrs. Frank Gassett, Jr., in East Hartford, Connecticut. . . . Robert Cook, son of Roy and Margaret Cook attended the 4-H State Congress in Boston on November 27 and 28. Robert is very active in 4-H work. . . . Irene Pratt held a birthday party in honor of her daughter, Marilyn on November 21st. It was her fourth birthday.

At least the deer hunters are happy to see the snow for the start of the season. Joe Cusson got a nice seven-pointer in Vermont, this is his tenth. . . . Henry Gamari, Jr., is back again after completing two years of service in the Army. . . . Alexander Murray, Bob Maynard and Bob Herzig have been transferred to other departments.

Medical Department

by Etta Owen

We were very pleased to receive a letter, recently, from Mr. Edmund Whitten, former editor of the LOG. Mr. Whitten guided us thru the critical growing years and was largely responsible for the successful paper the LOG is to-day.

"Ed" sends regards to all his friends at Sprague.

Thanks for remembering us, Mr. Whitten, and if you are traveling in the Berkshires, do stop in and see us.

Introducing . . . "Miss December"

Lovely Elaine Daunais of Sprague Products invades Cramer's Children's World on Eagle Street to select a few toys for the children on her Christmas list. We hope Elaine is aware that adults invariably select toys for children that they unconsciously want for themselves. Elaine is a 1958 graduate of Adams High School and is very interested in ballet.

Former Employees of Depts. 645-655 Hold Reunion

by: Retired Reporter: Jennie Garceau

A reunion was held at the Mountain View Restaurant by a group of 42 former co-workers of the departments 655 and 645. The tables were beautifully decorated and a fortune awaited each one, all of which we hope are bound to come true.

After the dinner chit-chats were in order helping to bring us up-to-date on happenings in the past. Grand-mothers present were: Vi Leveque, Edna Mahar, Ida Tovani, Alvina Moreau, Clara Catotti, Delphina Regaioli, Elizabeth Hamilton, Emmy Lescarbeau, Marie (Flo) Dean, Olive Crandall, Lil Trombley, Yvonne Ross Amelia Couture, Betty Berger, Maude Crews, Jeannette Shambau, Lil Goff. Vi Leveque could boast of the most grandchildren, 14 in all; and Lil Goff, the newest grandchild, only one month old. Agnes LaRoche was the newest mother. Needless to mention all had pictures to show around.

We were all greatly surprised and pleased to have among us, our former reporter Frances Kordana of Adams, who is now serving as a nurse at Pittsfield General Hospital, and she brought along as her chauffeur for the evening another co-worker of ours, Thelma Sherman.

Mary Marra entertained us with delightful monologues and Peggy Daub gave us the latest news of her friend, Chief White Cloud.

Esther Poplaski and Stacia Menty still displayed their cheery smiles.

Vi Bona, Norma Turgeon, Evelyn Prystas, Mary Maselli, Bernadette Jones, Norma Skorupski, Theresa Estes and Marlene Bush were busy feeding the juke box, their favorites being Polish hops.

Loretta Millette requested autographs after the pictures were taken, perhaps in the hope that someone might win the Oscar.

Rose Mazza. Could you be the Goldilocks at Brown Street?

Doris Gaudette, Laura Benoit, Dolly Rowett, Ida Chilson, Rita DiSanti and myself were gathering a few facts and more news to bring you up to date.

Missing from the party were Madeleine Boner and Jane Gross as the nasty old bug had them in his clutches.

Cards were signed by all and sent to George Ross, Emma Dube, and May Haas. The attendance prize was won by Clara Catotti and all voted to have another party again next year. My thanks to Rita, Mary & Peggy for their kind help.

Around the Plant

We had some very distinguished guests November 10th from the Army Signal Corps, Washington, D. C., including Brig. Gen. R. T. Nelson, Lt. Gen. J. D. O'Connell, Gen. H. L. Scofield, Maj. J. G. Pelland, Col. O. L. Bell, Lt. Col. W. M. Sheppard and Mr. P. A. Prince. Also, New Hampshire Sen. Styles Bridges visited our plant on December 2nd. . . . Gloria Symonds was guest of honor at a baby shower given at the China Dragon by friends in the Transistor Department. . . . Plans and preparations are in progress for our Christmas Party which is going to be held at the New Hampshire Highway Hotel, December 20th. . . . Glen Statunas was a lucky deer hunter the first day of the season bagging his first deer, an 85 pound buck. He is the 16 year old son of Charlotte Statunas, Transistor Department. . . . Congratulations to Don Foy on the announcement of his engagement. . . . Tom Leary, Engineer, headed up the Christmas program for the Santa Claus parade. The Concord children were thrilled to see Santa riding in his sleigh. . . . We understand that Frank Titcomb, Engineer, has recently purchased a new home in Hopkinton. We hope it will hold many years of happiness for you, Frank. . . . Welcome to Gloria Foote who just returned from Alaska to await the arrival of the stork. She, Sandra Mancini, Mary Gadvah, Evelyn Gallagher, Jane Degrecnia, Bertha Young, Diane Thurston, Barbara Salmarch, Priscilla Pelletier, Betty McGown, Lois Flanders, Sandra Hildreth to the Transistor Department; Emily Gasper, Lena Lamby, Betty Landry, Charlotte Watterson, Ruby Towle, Beverly Thi-Ansaldo, Dave Cates, Paul Dlubac, Ken Davis, Dick Ehrhardt; Joe Fournier, Ron Giles, Lloyd Palmer, John Norwich, Dick Perry, Bob Philbrick, and Al Edson to the Machine Shop.

RECENT TRENDS

ded. The recent modification for wiring board use consists of making one end absolutely flat. The unit can then be "stood-up" on this end on the wiring board. The lead from the other end may then be bent over and brought down the side of the unit and inserted in the board near the other lead.

A third new type of capacitor now in pilot plant production, unlike the other two types just discussed, has radial leads. That is, each lead is perpendicular to the cylindrical body of the capacitor. This capacitor is made using a Sprague developed solid impregnant. This impregnant, a liquid when first put in the unit, is subsequently hardened by heating. Then, since the impregnant is no longer liquid and since the leads are radial, this construction can be coated by dipping in a thermosetting plastic. This dipped construction makes possible a low cost capacitor of good electrical characteristics.

Ceramic Printed Circuits

One entirely new concept in components which has come into consumer electronic products since the second World War is the ceramic printed circuit (which, incidentally, should not be confused with the printed wiring boards mentioned previously).

These printed circuits consist of small ceramic (i.e. a material made from a fired clay somewhat like that used for pottery) plates on which are deposited by a "printing" process small strips of carbon and silver. After proper processing these silver and carbon paths become permanently bonded to the ceramic base plate. The carbon paths take the place of resistors and the silver paths become capacitors. After the leads are attached, these ceramic plates are then coated with a plastic to protect them.

It is possible to print in this manner a great number of components on a single ceramic plate. The largest plate commonly used in television is about 1½" by 1" and 1/32 of an inch thick. A plate this size may have typically as many as nine leads and contain the equivalent of ten separate resistors and capacitors. Thus since one plate does the job of many individual components, these ceramic printed circuits represent a saving to the TV manufacturer both in component cost and also in wiring time. Sprague's printed circuits carry the trademark Bulplates*.

Only a few of the recent developments in TV components could be indicated above. We must expect many further changes. For manufacturers such as Sprague this will mean new

Local High School Basketball

The Northern Berkshire Inter-scholastic Basketball League will open its schedule January 2 and, once again, seven teams will compete in the forty-two game schedule. All games are played on week nights with the closing game scheduled for February 20.

Pittsfield High will defend both its league and county title under their newly appointed coach, Frank Moynahan.

The outlook for the local school teams show that both Adams and Williamstown will be rebuilding, while Drury and St. Joseph have some key veterans returning.

Drury once again under the leadership of Coach Nick DeNegro should be considered a serious threat to dethrone Pittsfield. As a nucleus, Coach DeNegro has two prolific scorers in Joe Girardi and Al Davine. Height will not be lacking, and Art Beacon along with the above mentioned are excellent rebound men. Rounding out the squad is Dick Doran and Archie Wright, veterans from last year, plus some excellent material coming up from last year's fine jayvee squad.

St. Joseph, coached by Frank Matranga, will have four of their starting five combination of last year's well-trained squad returning. Led by Captain Bill Dyson, who has excelled highly the past three years.

ONE OF NASTIC'S GAME CAPTAINS
PAUL FARMER

St. Joseph will have plenty of ability, but will lack height and depth. One can be sure that they will have a scrappy team with the desire to win and can well be the league dark-horse.

Both Adams, coached by Chet Zabek, and Williamstown, coached by Fran Cardillo, have only one or two veterans returning. Both are faced with the task of rebuilding. Coach Cardillo states that his charges lack height and depth. He realizes that his team will have some difficulty against large schools, but firmly believes his squad could more than hold their own against schools the same size as Williamstown.

Local College Basketball

North Adams State Teachers College is looking forward to a banner season as Coach Hy Patashnick has a veteran-studded team. Lost by graduation was Arne Busold, top team scorer, but Coach Patashnick can rely on any one of his starting five for scoring strength and at any time can insert reserves without fear.

Defensively, the local professors will be led by Joe Zavattaro and Paul Farmer, two great rebound men, and Coach Patashnick can count on them as well as Fred Lefave and George St. Pierre for the scoring punch he needs.

Little Danny Foster, a former high school star, is one who can set up plays and keep his team hustling with his dazzling passing.

The Williams College basketball squad, coached by Al Shaw and captained by Pete Wilmott, look forward to a promising season and to better its 9-11 record of a year ago. Williams lost only one man by graduation, and the returning veterans plus some fine sophomore prospects should provide the Ephmen with a talented squad.

Jeff Morton should be the man to watch. This is his fourth season of basketball at Williams and for the past two years was their top scorer. Last year he scored 440 points for an average of 22.0 points per game.
